

Luke 16:1-15

Planning for the future

'He who has ears to hear, let him hear.'
[Luke 14.35]

Luke 16:1-15

The parable Jesus tells

Luke 16:1-15

The parable Jesus tells
The assumptions Jesus brings

Luke 16:1-15

The assumptions Jesus brings

This world is a fallen world

Luke 16:1-15

The assumptions Jesus brings

This world is a fallen world

This world is a divided world

Luke 16:1-15

The assumptions Jesus brings

This world is a fallen world

This world is a divided world

This world is not the only world

Luke 16:1-15

The parable Jesus tells

The assumptions Jesus brings

The application Jesus makes

Luke 16:1-15
The application Jesus makes

[1] The church can learn from the world

Luke 16:1-15

The application Jesus makes

[2] If the world can make financial plans for this life, how much more should the church make financial plans for the life to come

Luke 16:1-15
The application Jesus makes
Wealth is a fallen commodity

Luke 16:1-15

The application Jesus makes

Wealth is a fallen commodity
Make friends for eternity

Luke 16:1-15

The application Jesus makes

Wealth is a fallen commodity
Make friends for eternity

Attitudes now have eternal outcomes

Luke 16:1-15

The application Jesus makes

Wealth is a fallen commodity

Make friends for eternity

Attitudes now have eternal outcomes

No-one serves two masters